STRIKING COAL MINERS WANT PITS ABANDONED; POLITICAL CRISIS LOOMS IN GREAT BRITAIN

NEXT MOVE UP TO PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The miners' conference of the National Miners' Federation today asked the National Miners' Federation to call a national conference to consider the withdrawal of all labor from the coal mines. The miners are kept in order by specially assigned forces and their withdrawal would render the pits useless for a reconstruction of work.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—British labor and the country as a whole waited anxiously today for the government's next move in the deadlock over the coal miners' strike, following the strike ultimatum delivered by the railway men yesterday and almost equally pointed threat from the transport workers.

The representatives of the National Union of Railway Men were in session and it was understood they expected a reply from the premier to the communication they sent him yesterday giving him to understand that the railway men would quit work Sunday at midnight unless by Saturday the strike was settled or negotiations which would effect a settlement had been begun. Meanwhile the government and the use of the miners' leaders were exploring the ground in an effort to find some basis for an adjustment.

This afternoon it was announced that the parliamentary committee of the trades union congress had called a conference for Wednesday next for the executives of the affiliated unions to consider methods of helping the miners in their effort to settle the strike.

MACSWINEY BEING FORCIBLY FED DESPITE HIS PROTESTS

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, was detained this morning, and the prison authorities continued to force food into his mouth, in spite of his protests, according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League.

The lord mayor becomes conscious at intervals, the bulletin said, but is unable to recognize relatives or his surroundings. For a short time last night his delirium again became violent.

"He went to sleep for about an hour," said the bulletin. "At about 4:30 o'clock he seemed to be rallying to his senses, but relapsed almost immediately. This occurred again between 7 and 8 o'clock, when his sister Anna was with him. He suddenly asked the month and the year, where he was, and was the Irish republic established and recognized."

"It seems as if he might recognize his sister, but he became delirious again, muttering: 'We did some grand marching during the night; they were marching as well, but we beat them; it's glorious.'"

"The prison authorities continued to force food into his mouth. About 8:30 o'clock this morning, a nurse held a spoon of meat juice to his lips, but he muttered, 'no, no, take it away,' and closed his lips firmly. The performance was repeated twice when his head fell back from exhaustion and the spoon was inserted in his mouth."

"The league's mid-afternoon bulletin stated that Mayor MacSwiney had been in a more or less semi-conscious condition all morning."

"He recognized his sister Mary, but no one else," the bulletin added. "The delirium continues at intervals in a more extreme form. He now is calm."

Landis Starts Probe Of The Whiskey Ring

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Federal Judge K. M. Landis today began active participation in the investigation of an alleged "whiskey ring" said to be shipping liquor to Chicago under forged permits and distributing it wholesale to former saloon keepers.

The judge ordered the district attorney's office and the prohibition officers of the district to bring in every man connected with the whiskey traffic and asserted he would "expose every crooked politician and federal agent in Chicago."

Federal warrants have been issued for six politicians who are charged with complicity in the "whiskey ring." Four of them are detective sergeants, one a patrolman and the other a motorcycle policeman. The charges range from attempted bribery to conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

ELECTED HEAD OF RAILROAD SYSTEM

Charles Connelly of Chicago, re-elected as one of the leading railroad attorneys of the country, has been elected president of the Northern Pacific railroad. He succeeds Jule M. Hamford, who is to retire. Connelly is fifty-one years old. He formerly was executive vice president of the road.

SEARCH FOR STUDENT IN COLLEGE MURDER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 22.—A nation wide search was instituted today for William P. Brines, the University of Pennsylvania freshman for whom a warrant was issued yesterday charging him with the murder of Elmer C. Drewes, the Dartmouth College student slain here last Saturday night. The young man was said by the police to have been close friends. Although the authorities admitted they have discovered no motive for the killing, they declared they have a "large quantity of evidence which directly points to Brines as being responsible for the death of Drewes."

One theory of the police is that he was killed in a dispute over the purchase of an automobile. Before leaving his home in West Philadelphia last Saturday night, Drewes told his father he intended buying a second hand motor car and those working on the case said it has been learned that it was Brines' machine he planned to purchase.

The car found abandoned yesterday, a mile from where Drewes body was discovered and which was identified as having belonged to Brines is the one the Dartmouth student intended buying, according to the detectives. In the car, which was stained with blood, were found an automobile pistol with two cartridges missing and two empty bottles. The police have been searching for Brines for several days. He lived with his mother who is a widow in West Philadelphia and their apartments have been closed since Monday. He has not attended any classes at the university since last week. Mrs. Brines was said to be in a local hospital suffering from a nervous trouble.

Belgium Faces Big Strike BASTILLE'S

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Interest in the miners' strike and the threatened walk out of railroad and transport workers throughout the country was centered today on 10 Downing street, the official residence of Premier Lloyd George.

Served with virtual intimations by the railroad and transport men to begin negotiations with the miners today on the issue of an income tax.

Wisconsin In Mixed-Up, Topsy Turvy Political Situation, Says Lawrence

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1920)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 21.—It ever there was a mixed-up, topsy-turvy, political situation in the state of Wisconsin this year presents such a paradox. Consider these facts: John J. Blaine, Republican nominee for Governor has the support of La Follette and the Non-Partisan League and German elements.

Robert Bruce McCoy, Democratic nominee for Governor has the support of Republicans and Democrats who are opposed to La Follette and the Non-Partisan League.

W. J. Morgan, who is running for attorney general on the same Republican ticket with Blaine, fought the latter in the primaries and since has announced that he will fight him at the polls by voting for the Democrat, Mr. McCoy.

The Non-Partisan League and La Follette Republicans decided after this announcement not to support Mr. Morgan for attorney general but to throw their support to A. C. Larson, Democratic nominee for the same office, who upon the Milwaukee Journal, influential newspaper, throughout the state, which has been supporting the entire Democratic ticket, promptly withdrew from support of Larson and decided to support Morgan, Republican.

Many independent voters are doing the same thing. Irvin Lenroot, candidate on the regular Republican ticket for reelection to the United States Senate is being fought by James Thompson, Independent Republican candidate, who was unsuccessful in the primary race for this office and by Dr. Paul S. Reubens, Democrat, formerly minister to China.

Mr. Thompson has the support of the La Follette and Non-Partisan factions and is denouncing Lenroot for having voted for the League of Nations even with reservations.

Dr. Reubens is supporting the League of Nations and says his only regret is that Article 10 isn't stronger. He is of German extraction but is credited with having induced China to enter the war against Germany. He is a distinguished scholar and formerly was head of the department of political science in the University of Wisconsin. He will not carry a fair share of the German vote purely through the support of German-Americans in Wisconsin, but of a total population of less than three millions.

Mr. Thompson is a conspicuous leader of the Norwegians of this state, while Mr. Lenroot is of Swedish. The Swedes and the Norwegians have not much more affection for each other on this side of the Atlantic than they have on the other side.

Senator Harding is sure to carry the state by at least 100,000 over the lot. It is doubtful whether in a three cornered fight Lenroot will pull through. Indeed Senator Harding has issued an appeal urging the election of Lenroot, something that will cost Harding votes with the La Follette Republicans who are supporting Thompson for the Senate.

$25,000 Bribe Settled Strike, Is Alleged

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Testimony that $25,000 was used as a bribe in "fixing up" a recent strike of building laborers was expected to be turned over today to the district attorney's office for immediate action.

State Senator Charles C. Lockwood, chairman of the joint executive committee on housing investigation building conditions here, announced that at the clearing of yesterday's session, the hearing was resumed today.

The testimony brought out of yesterday's session, was to the effect that Ephraim B. Levy, a builder engaged in a $2,000,000 construction, paid the $25,000 to George Barker, another builder in immediate charge of the operations. For transmission, it was understood to Robert P. Brindell, president of the Building Trades Council of New York, as a go-between for "the committee," who promised to stop the strike.

League Council Members Discuss Disarmament And International Justice Court

BRUSSELS, Oct. 22.—The organization of an international court of justice and the subject of general disarmament were the main topics under discussion today by members of the council of the league of nations, in session here.

The views of the members were exchanged in strictly private consultations. Even the confidential secretaries were excluded from the sessions.

The members are hopeful of overcoming some of the difficulties regarding these two questions before completing their general report to be submitted to the assembly of the league at its meeting in Geneva.

The project for the international court has provoked criticism from Scandinavian countries. Norway and Denmark appear to have joined hands in support of certain amendments to the court plan, as well as of amendments to the covenants of the league, which they will present at Geneva.

Holland with Switzerland and possibly some of the South American countries, is believed in league circles to have joined these nations in a combination of neutrals to oppose the central conception to that of the former belligerents.

Armenian Army Repulses Attacks Of Turk Forces

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A dispatch to the Armenian legation today from its government said the Turkish attacks on Noreh and Khar had been repulsed. The morale of the Armenian army was described as excellent. Armenians in Tiflis, Georgia, made a big demonstration before allied missions there, said the dispatch, in protest against Turkish invasion and to express their determination to defend their independence to the last. At the same time hostile demonstrations were made before the Soviet mission at Tiflis.

It was stated that the Bolsheviks had offered to arrange for the withdrawal of the Turkish troops to the 1914 frontier provided the Armenian government officially announced that it had nothing in common with the allies. This offer was rejected.

The Bolsheviks were reported to be reinforcing their troops on the Armenian frontier at Akhstara, Zankour and Tatis.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS UNUSUALLY BRIGHT, SAYS ELBERT H. GARY

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Business prospects are unusually bright, both in the United States and abroad, Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, declared in an address before the American Iron and Steel Institute here today.

"Although this is a time for courage, temperance, and caution," Mr. Gary said, "the business skies are practically without clouds. As always, there may be showers from time to time, but there is nothing in the atmosphere to indicate the approach of dangerous storms."

"If there should be a serious reaction and depression," he continued, "which now seems improbable, it will be the fault of those who are connected with business operations or otherwise by reason of official positions, improperly interfere and not because of any fundamental deficiencies in our resources and opportunities."

"Without referring to individual cases or lines of general business, I believe in many instances prices have been unduly high. This observation applies more especially to middle class goods, and to smaller departments of industry. It also includes prices in certain trades, but it does not include prices under present conditions in the business of war."

"The present tendency is toward a more reasonable and fairer relation of prices. The difficulty is found in the fact that every individual is per-

WOLVES AND VULTURES ARE FATTENING ON VITALS OF ORGANIZED LABOR, CHARGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The joint legislative committee investigating the alleged building trust can perform no greater service for legitimate organized labor than that of exposing, punishing and ejecting from its councils the wolves and vultures who have been fattening on its vitals.

This statement was made today at the continuation of the inquiry by Samuel Talmadge, committee counsel, in branding as "a tissue of wicked falsehoods" cunningly calculated to mislead the public, statements issued at the close of yesterday's hearing, at which witnesses testified that a $25,000 bribe had been paid to end a building trade strike here. One of the post-session statements to which Mr. Talmadge took exception was to the effect that organized labor was being "framed."

"It will indeed be a sorry day for organized labor when every exposed crook operating under the shield of the great cause of organized labor can cover his tracks and rally the ranks of labor to his support by the hypocritical cry that the exposure of his sins in the book of labor are an attack on the institution that he is trying to rescue from his sordid clutches," continued Mr. Talmadge.

He said the "legitimate elements of organized labor are actively supporting, encouraging and assisting" his efforts to bring out the facts.

Women Serve Poison Without Knowing It

It is a sad fact that loving hands often serve poison in food through ignorance of its presence.

Every woman should know all about the cure of food in the home.

She should know how to guard against damage from flies, dust, mold and everything else that will taint what the family eats.

If a woman is not wise and vigilant in these matters she not only risks her own health, but that of all whom she serves.

Now comes Uncle Sam to help out in this important matter.

A free booklet is waiting for every woman who will send for it—a booklet which gives the results of careful scientific study on the safe way to keep all kinds of food.

It has many illustrations—one that shows how to keep food in a window box (blackberry girls take notice).

Send for a copy, and send the name of some other woman who may not see this offer. Use the coupon.

MONKEY BITE PART OF PLOT TO ASSASSINATE THE KING OF GREECE

ROME, Oct. 22.—Injuries inflicted upon King Alexander of Greece were the result of a plot to assassinate the young monarch, according to Dr. George Ferdinand Widal of Paris, who has been attending the king and was interviewed by the Messager, while passing through Rome on his way home from Athens.

"While the story of the monkey biting King Alexander is true," Dr. Widal is quoted as saying, "the monkey was suffering from rabies with which it had been artificially inoculated. Hence, a veritable attempt against the king's life was committed."

ATHENS, Oct. 22.—King Alexander of Greece was resting easily last night, according to a bulletin issued by the physicians at 11 p. m. The king, who had been in a calm sleep, his temperature was 102.5.

Harding Back In Marion For Four Days Rest

MARION, O., Oct. 22.—With his return to Marion today from his short campaign excursion into New York state, Senator Harding had before him four days of freedom from speech making before beginning the swing around the circle of his own state that will wind up his campaign.

The speech at Buffalo last night completed the senator's list of engagements outside Ohio. His front porch program also is virtually at an end, and the only speaking dates now definitely to be filled are the four next week in Cleveland, Akron, Cincinnati and Columbus.

Whether Senator Harding will fill all of these engagements in one trip, or will return to Marion between speeches has not been determined. Some of his advisers are urging that he make no attempt to spend any of the time after Wednesday at home, but devote the spare time to rear platform speeches.

We finally have heard once more from Lindsey—our Phyllis Phillips, who has traced the career of Lindsey in "The Diary of an Engaged Girl." Miss Phillips had been sending us the story from abroad. On her arrival in New York a few days ago she was shocked to learn that installments of the story, mailed weeks ago, had not reached us. She has rushed us duplicate copies of these chapters now so you can follow the care-free, liberty-loving Lindsey once more to the final paragraph. You probably recall that the last you read about Lindsey she and Cecil had looked on while Jeffry and Cecile were married in the quaint church at Montmorency and then the party had started for sunny Italy. The first installment of the last numbers will be found on the Society Page today.

Has The Dollar Greater Value Today?
HERE IS THE PROOF:
The Answer Is To Be Found At

Rosenthal's

At this store the claim for your patronage is based on the following logical reasons:

Selling merchandise successfully today must of necessity be figured on the net cost of doing business and is it not true that a store doing business under heavy overhead charges a bigger percentage of profit than the little fellow who is away from the high priced stores, employing window trimmers, managers, delivery automobiles and a dozen and one other expenses, charged to overhead and which are all figured in the retail price which the public must pay?

THIS STORE IS OUT OF THE HIGH RENT DISTRICT. Therefore the dollar has greater purchasing power at this store than at any other store in this city.

HERE IS THE PROOF:

Greatest Blouse Offering in this city at	$4.95

Five-Dollar Bills For A Dollar Apiece

There is a story about a man who stood on a street corner in a large city and offered to sell five-dollar bills for a dollar apiece. He had made a wager with a friend that he could dispose of a certain number of this price within a certain time.

He lost the wager, for, although the bills were genuine, only two people out of the hundreds that passed were venturesome enough to take a chance. Also his offer was reported to the police and he narrowly escaped arrest.

You see, there was no logical reason why anyone should make such an astonishing reduction, and the public, naturally, viewed the proposition with scorn.

Deep down in its heart the public expects every seller to make a profit on the article he has for sale, and when, as in the above instance, it is so plainly evident that the article is being sold for less than it is actually worth, the majority of people immediately surmise that something is amiss and back away.

And yet the man with the five-dollar bill proposition was doing nothing more than the wily individual who offers you "Five Dollar Glasses For One Dollar." If the public realized this they would regard it with the same suspicion as the passers-by did the man on the corner. The principle is exactly the same.

No reputable Optometrist sells five-dollar glasses for one dollar, nor one-dollar glasses for five dollars. He makes a charge that is right and reasonable and gives you the benefit of his knowledge, skill and experience in fitting glasses, without which even ten-dollar glasses would not do your eyes five cents' worth of good.

Emmons Gets The Divorce
Dismissing the petition of the plaintiff in the suit of Artie Emmons against Charles Emmons, Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday granted the defendant a divorce on his cross petition. The decree was granted on the grounds of neglect and infidelity but the court held open the question of the custody of their one minor child pending a further investigation.

The parties to the suit live at McCollough and the evidence was heard several days ago. Attorneys Miller and Seidl for defendant and Attorneys Blair and Blair for the wife.

Jenkins Transferred to Pen
Melvin Jenkins, notorious thief, who was recently sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Thomas on his plea of guilty to a charge of burglary and larceny, was taken to the big prison at Columbus Friday by Detective Andy Leslie.

The crime for which Jenkins was sentenced occurred in September 1919 when he participated in a robbery with George Itaymer at the home of Pearl Cecil, Hilltop. Itaymer is now serving a sentence for the crime.

Curd Taken To Mansfield
Jesse Curd, negro, who was recently convicted by a jury in Common Pleas court of a charge of grand larceny in connection with the theft of a diamond ring from the Wilhelm jewelry store last July, and sentenced to the state reformatory, was transferred to the Mansfield prison Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Elza Carter.

Henry Hunter, also colored and pal of Curd, was convicted of participating in the crime and was sentenced to the same prison.

Filgor Case Dismissed
Hearing of the divorce suit of Mary Filgor, Boundary street against Wesley Filgor, steelworker, 418 Campbell ave., was suddenly halted in Common Pleas court Friday when Judge Thomas dismissed the plaintiff's petition after Filgor stated that he was willing and ready to care for his wife.

The couple were married March 20, 1920 and separated in June, when she said he deserted her and refused since to support her and her child by a former marriage. He denied her statement and declared that the cause of their separation was "too much mother-in-law."

Attorney A. Z. Blair for the wife and Attorney T. C. Beatty for Filgor.

Wife Granted Divorce
On the grounds of cruelty and neglect, Kate Duckett, Scioto Trail, was divorced from James Duckett by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday.

They were married December 18, 1903 and the plaintiff told the court that Duckett beat and abused her throughout their married life previous to deserting her more than two years for another woman. The wife was awarded custody of their three minor children and the defendant, who is a structural steelworker, now living at Columbus, was ordered to pay her $15 a week alimony. Attorneys Blair and Blair for the plaintiff.

Suit On Note
John Ellis and N. L. Wells, of Morehead, Ky., brought suit in Common Pleas court Friday through Attorney L. A. Thompson, seeking to recover $100 from J. V. Harris, 1225 Kendall ave., alleged to be due on a promissory note given to the Morehead bank four months ago.

White Given Another Chance
One White, Toledo negro, who was arrested and brought here recently on an indictment charging him with non-support of his infant child, was released from custody on the order of Judge Thomas.

White pleaded guilty to the charge and the court deferred sentence on the promise of the accused to pay $5 a week for the support of the child. The indictment was brought at the instance of Mrs. Mattie Price-White, of Thirtieth street, who is separated from her husband.

Letters From Our Readers

Wants Information
Portsmouth, Ohio,
October 21, 1920.

Dear Sir:

As a reader of the "Times" and a taxpayer of Portsmouth and Scioto County I request space in your paper for the purpose of ascertaining, in advance of election, some information concerning articles which appeared in the "Times" under date of the 20th and 21st, concerning the proposed bond issue for the further enlargement of Portsmouth Schools.

Last school season there was a prevailing dissatisfaction among the teachers of this city on the grounds of being underpaid which was readily conceded, when their complaints were made known, and thereupon was launched an extensive campaign by the teachers, and all those in sympathy with the movement, and a three mill levy was the out come of their efforts, which was placed before the electors in the primaries of August the 10th, this year, and was liberally subscribed to by the voters, with the understanding, however, that it would be used for the adjustment of their salaries. After such levy was put over there was a handsome increase of six hundred dollars added to the State's salary, and six additional officers created termed as Supervisors each receiving an increase similar to that of the Super, and the teachers themselves who are burdened with the real responsibility and care of the pupils were supposed to have been increased in the merit system which was not satisfactory to the teachers.

There was immediately created a pension plan which is compulsory and a per cent of the earnings of the teachers are deducted for the purpose of maintaining a fund which is intended for the retirement of teachers on the pension plan after a certain number of years service. After this deduction from salaries, some are actually receiving less than that of last year. The distribution of the three mill levy has not been satisfactorily apportioned, in my estimation, and while I was enthusiastically back of the levy I will be just as much opposed to the bond issue, both with my vote and influence. I do not hesitate to mention the fact that this has the endorsement of several hundred voters.

Yours truly,
A Tax Payer.

Ball Pools Under Fire

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Grand jury take a new turn today when the Cook county grand jury will begin an inquiry into the prosecution of baseball gambling.

baseball pools. Eleven indictments against baseball players and gamblers also will be voted today. It is reported, at the criminal court building. Eight will be against White Sox players, against whom true bills were returned last month. The other three are understood to involve a former prize fighter and two former ball players, one of whom was a member of the New York Giants and the other at one time was a White Sox player.

Several men, including Roy Crossman, a street car employee, have been called to tell about baseball pools. Crossman is reported to have won the $10,000 capital prize in a baseball pool, but asserts that the pool operators refused to pay him and he compromised his claim for $500. The state's attorney announced that investigation of one pool has disclosed that 134,500 combinations were sold during the past season for $1 each. Only $28,500 in prizes was paid, and after all expenses were met the gamblers had a profit of $104,000.

Ran Johnson, president of the American league, who returned today from St. Louis where he went in an effort to obtain additional witnesses to tell of gambling, is expected to testify.

Burn Your Leaves, Service Director Says

Service Director William Gergens, in an announcement Thursday, requests citizens throughout the city to burn the leaves in the streets and about their premises as a means of getting rid of much litter on the streets.

By doing so, the official pointed out, will prevent the leaves from clogging sewers when the fall rains come and result in much damage. He declared the city has no funds to pay the expense of hauling the leaves away and urges this method as a means of cleaning up the streets a bit. He added that the ashes from the burned leaves makes splendid fertilizer for lawns, thus benefiting those that take advantage of the process.

The Gallia County Bar Association invites public attention to the candidacy of Judge Boscoe J. Mauck, of Gallipolis, for Judge of the Court of Appeals. Judge Mauck is the Republican nominee but his candidacy has been generously endorsed by the bar and press of the District, regardless of politics.

The Pomeroy Leader (Republican) says:

"The Leader is pleased to add its endorsements to the many already made of the candidacy of Boscoe J. Mauck of Gallipolis for the Court of Appeals. Nature endowed him with an extraordinary judicial mind. This has been greatly strengthened by study, experience, much reading and discipline gained in sitting as a judge in the Common Pleas Court.

"Not only has he in high degree the qualifications for the position he seeks, but he has at the same time an unusual amount of good practical sense and a sense of justice from which he can not be turned. We believe he is now, and will continue to be, an eminently just judge. No better man be selected for the place."

The Portsmouth Times (Democratic) says:

"He possesses broad and accurate knowledge of the principles and philosophy of the law and has the reputation of being just and equitable in his decisions. His entire career of more than 25 years at the bar and on the bench has been worthy of the best traditions of the bar. Judge Mauck was born and reared in Gallia County and he was admitted to the bar in 1892. He practiced extensively in Eastern Ohio, save for a brief period when he served as Assistant Attorney General of Ohio until 1915, when he was elected Common Pleas Judge of Gallia County. As judge of this Court he made an enviable record, both for the quality and justice of his decisions and for the quickness in which he dispatched business."

Judge Mauck has by special assignment by the Chief Justice presided in the Courts at Cleveland, Columbus, Akron and many other places in Ohio and has demonstrated his eminent fitness for promotion to the Court of Appeals.

Condensed Fruit Juices in each Jiffy-Jell Dessert

Remember how Jiffy-Jell excels the old-time quick gelatin desserts.

Jiffy-Jell is a real-fruit dainty, rich in fruit. We crush the fruit, condense the juice and seal it in a vial. You get the delights and healthfulness of fruit, not a mere fruity taste.

The fruit is plentiful. We crush, for instance, half a pineapple to flavor one dessert. This is done in Hawaii—fruit too ripe to ship. The fruit alone might cost you as much as the whole dessert.

This is most important. People need fruit daily—real fruit, not mere flavor. Jiffy-Jell serves it in delicious form, with a moment's trouble, at a trifling cost. Join the millions who enjoy it. Start this week and send the trade-marks for the molds we offer free.

Eight Fruit Desserts

Eight fruit desserts are placed at your constant call. A package serves a family and costs a few cents only.

The desserts are light, as desserts should be. They are rich in needed fruit. And nothing is more welcome.

Jiffy-Jell comes ready-sweetened. It comes acidulated with lemon or grape acid. Simply add boiling water, as directed on package, then the fruit essence from the vial and let cool.

Mint Jiffy-Jell

Is rich in mint. Serve with roast meats or as a side dish.

Lime Fruit

MISS BOB WHITE MAKES HIT; WILL BE REPEATED TONIGHT

Playing before a capacity house at P. H. S. last night, "Miss Bob White" was carried through without a single interruption for the first performance. The play, which originally ran for several years in New York and on tour with prominent opera stars, was reproduced by local amateurs, who were received with enthusiastic applause. The various scenes were interspersed with choruses of attractive young misses who sang and danced in various formations.

The Columbia Quartette furnished the music throughout the evening, with Mrs. Fendos Richie (Mary Rudy) accompanying the soloists.

In true comic opera style the plot centered upon Tre Billon and Van Millon, two young millionaires, destined to be tramps for two months, through the loss of a bet.

These parts were taken by Fred Klingman and Ronald Thuman respectively whose situations were somewhat thrilling for "knights of the road."

They took refuge on the farm of Friend Todd, a Quaker, Talmadge Edwards, who compelled them to work for their keep.

"Miss Bob White," enacted by Mrs. James Williams, was the fiancée of Tre Billon, and appeared as a milk maid on the same farm, having heard of the predicament of the two young friends. Many amusing difficulties were brought about and the antics of the tramps kept the house in a continual uproar of laughter. Miss "Bob" who has a pretty soprano voice favored the audience with numerous selections, along with songs by Tre Billon and Van Millon. Miss Ruth Fitch, as Phyllis, was a shy Quaker maiden and fiancée of "Jack," a farmer lad, taken by J. E. Towelick. Their "Swing Song" was delightfully done. "Miss Anthony," Cleo Ressler, who led the colonial Dance chorus, finally accepted the proposal of "Lord B." successfully enacted by Moffett Edwards.

Mrs. Julian Hopkins Dunn, was a winsome maid, "Maggie," by name, who won the attentions of Van Millon. W. H. McGreevy, the director as the Duke, Richard Taylor, as "O'Yankie," the policeman and Payson Gould, the "black-faced" Butler in Tre Billon's domain, were splendid in their interpretations.

The evening was featured by the Dragon Fly Dance, by a dainty little dancer, Lois Dorothy Horrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Horrich of Dayton, formerly of this city. The little girl held the audience spellbound, and was summoned for an encore.

Laura Deaterly, was the dainty soloist, leading the Bubbleland chorus, of over one hundred little girls. This was over one hundred little girls. This was made spectacular by the varicolored balloons carried by the children. Mr. J. Vaughn Vinney and Miss Ruth Crawford accompanied Miss Mildred Brown's waltzlike dance, which was beautifully done. Other attractive features were carried out by the "Jackies," "Milkmaids and Farmers," and the "Flirtation group" of young men and women, which appeared in the last act. The final was brought about at a garden party at Tre Billon's home, which was very effective.

The playlet will be given again tonight, the curtain to raise at 8:30. The Bubbleland chorus will be given this evening at the end of the first act, so that the youngsters may not be kept so late, according to arrangements made by the ladies of All Saints church under whose auspices the delightful affair is being given.

Upward Trend Of Business Shown In Parcel Post Figures

Approximately 13,000 incoming parcel post and 9,000 outgoing parcel post packages were handled at the local postoffice on the first 14 mail days of October, according to a report given out by Postmaster Vallee Harold Friday. This is a gain of over 40 per cent in the incoming and over 60 per cent in the outgoing over the same period last year.

The increase in the sale of stamps for parcel post deliveries was over 100 per cent which shows that heavier packages were also being sent.

The local postoffice has two trucks for the delivery of the packages which shows that each driver delivers approximately 700 packages each day.

Wisconsin Topsy-Turvy

But Harding can afford to lose votes and still carry Wisconsin by a comfortable majority.
Mr. Thompson, however, will divide

The Republican vote with Leurot and thus give Dr. Leurot a chance to squeeze in just as President Wilson did in 1916 when Taft and Roosevelt split the Republican strength in the state.
Another thing, Leurot is a dry in a state which contains a million Germans who still like that certain something which made Milwaukee famous.
So, summarizing the mix up, any one who can figure out the result is entitled to considerable distinction for the leaders frankly confess they are puzzled. The best judgment one gets here is that Harding will take the electoral vote easily, that Leurot, Democrat, has an even chance to defeat Leurot, and that Robert Bruce McCoy, Democrat, has a better than even chance to be elected governor.

Bankers Score Comptroller Of Currency Williams For Criticism Of Gotham Banks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Discussion by the American Bankers' Association of criticisms leveled recently at certain New York banks by Comptroller of Currency Williams culminated today in the adoption of a report of the association's resolutions committee condemning "dangerous attacks" by unnamed individuals on the credit structure of the country.

Presentation of the report brought on a heated discussion. Several members maintained that the convention itself was not interested in the controversy which has grown out of Comptroller Williams' charge that certain bankers had received exorbitant rates of interest on call loans.

The resolutions committee report expressed complete approval of the federal reserve system; condemned any effort to use the government funds or forces to arbitrarily hold up or to force down prices or otherwise to interfere with normal influences; recommended the elimination of the excess profit tax as unequitable and of the surplus tax because "it acts as a brake on production," and pledged the efforts of the members toward the opening of foreign markets through extension of long term credits or other means.

The report condemned "speculative hoarding" in agriculture or other industries, received the recommendation for a national budget system and expressed the association's complete disapproval of nationalization of industry, particularly as contemplated by the Plib plan.

The association through adoption of resolutions went on record as opposing "further participation of the government in business enterprises," and referred to the alleged extravagant losses resulting from government operation of railroads.

While favoring immigration as a means of preventing labor shortage and enabling the developing resources, the committee report adopted recommended caution in the admittance of aliens in order that the country's welfare and its ideal might be safeguarded. A five year program for construction of national highways was endorsed. The report in conclusion expressed the opinion that the United States faced an era of world leadership and prosperity which could only be lost "by internal strife or failure of national leadership."

D. F. Guinan of Maloney City, Pa., arose to defend Mr. Williams, describing him as "the most faithful and efficient comptroller of the currency who has been in office since the organization of the government."

This declaration was greeted with hisses from several sections of the convention hall.
Mr. Guinan declared he was not in favor of the American Bankers' Association entering a private quarrel and asserted that the comptroller's charges were not directed at the association in any respect, adding that Mr. Williams had on several occasions given unqualified approval to the association and its work as an organization.

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous And Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown.
This whole condition is a warning that nature needs assistance in giving the system a general house-cleaning. Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution, keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.

HUNDREDS OF BUSHEL S OF COAL GATHERED FROM BED OF OHIO RIVER

Now it is the coal gatherers along the Ohio river who are having their turn. They are filling their coal bins with coal picked up from sandbars exposed by the excessively low stage in the Ohio river. This is the first time that they have been able to do this in several years.

175 Wickets Repaired; May Raise Them Tonight

The low stage in the Ohio river continues as it only registered a foot this morning at 7 o'clock. As soon as repairs are made to the wickets on Dam 31 just below the city, which will probably be tonight, they will be raised and that will mean the last of the real low stages. Lockmaster T. C. Riggs stated Friday that all of the 175 wickets, which were damaged when the Towboat John Barrett passed over them recently, have been repaired and are again in good shape. They were not damaged to any great extent according to Mr. Riggs. Repairs to the wickets were made by the lock crew and were hurried along by the fact that some equipment was borrowed from Dam 23 near Maysville. Mr. Riggs said today that the low being returned to the city yesterday afternoon, the real living has gathered along the two big bars just west of the city. There are no favorite spots for the black diamond gatherers to flock to. The old Ohio is so low that coal can be picked up in almost every one of the shallow holes. And it is good coal, too. The rushing waters of the Ohio have polished it until many pieces resemble household. In fact, hundreds of pieces are found which are symmetrically perfect. Men, women and children have been busy gathering coal and the record low stage in the river opened a way to fill hundreds of coal bins along the river. Coal gathering is not confined to the local harbor. H. C. Wells, a Greenmation has gathered 400 bushels in five days. At Ironton, Havertill, Franklin Furnace, Greenup, Wheelersburg and Satorville many bushels have been collected. Flea Hughes of Front street claims the local record as he says he has gathered 600 bushels and is not through.

Barlow Says He Put Down River Marker In 1881

Si Barlow, a well known citizen says that he and the late Capt. R. A. Bryan put down the river marker in the Ohio near the foot of Market street, which is now exposed for the first time in many years owing to the low stage in the Ohio. "We put that stone down for the city on September 15, 1881," Mr. Barlow said today, who further said that the statement made by members of the Hammer Club that Capt. Euse Macroe put down the marker is erroneous.

Taken Back To Boston

Ralph Estela, shoe worker, who was arrested several days ago by local officers for the authorities of Boston.

Mass., on an indictment charging him with non-support of his wife and two children, was returned to that city Thursday night to meet the charge against him, by an officer who came after him.

Mrs. Myrtle Porter-Estela, the woman who accompanied Estela here more than a year ago and whom he married last January, accompanied by her two children started back to Boston Tuesday, it is said, for the purpose of interfering for the prisoner.

The couple lived on Front street while here and last February they were indicted on statutory charges, but the prosecution was not pressed when the legality of Estela's previous marriage was questioned.

Operations Successful

Rigdon Hall of Second street has returned from Cincinnati, where he recently submitted to two nasal operations, which were a complete success. He will later on submit to the third operation.

Radius Rod Breaks

A radius rod on a Ford machine driven on the Hilltop yesterday by Mrs. A. D. Travel of Fourth street broke and this permitted the car to swerve up on the sidewalk where it did a veritable "sidewalk" before it was stopped.

Will Hold Rally In High School Saturday Night

Two fine political speeches await the voters of Portsmouth Saturday night at 7:30 when Mrs. Winfield Smith, of Seattle, Wash., and Congressman Charles C. Keams will speak in the high school auditorium, under the auspices of the Republican Executive Committee.

Mrs. Smith will have a fine message for the women of Portsmouth, being a finished speaker and one who thoroughly understands the political situation, rendering her capable of an intelligent discussion.

Congressman Keams is well known in Portsmouth and a large crowd is expected to turn out to the meeting. This meeting is designed primarily for women and officials of the Women's Advisory Committee urge all the interested women to turn out to hear the two speakers. Several interesting features, including music by the Republican Glee Club are promised to the crowd.

COX ASKS FOR MANDATE OF BALLOTS TO OVERTURN GREATEST CONSPIRACY OF AGES

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 22.—A one-day campaign in New Jersey was held here by Governor James M. Cox of Ohio with a noon theatre meeting, at which the Democratic presidential candidate asked for a mandate of ballots to "overturn the greatest conspiracy of all the ages." This, he said, was against world peace, proposed under the league of nations.

The league, Governor Cox said, was inspired by God, as much as the declaration of independence itself. "Like other great milestones of history," he said, "it was a conspiracy of the ages." Cox, his "Trenton crowd" today heard the name of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, when the speaker repeated his charges of conspiracy by means of the "round robin."

Governor Cox named Senators Brandegee of Connecticut and Moses of New Hampshire, Stuart of Utah, and Watson of Indiana as signers of the "round robin," who would, he predicted, "stay home" as a result of the election.

"And Senator Harding," he said, "I am sure, I believe," the governor added, and the crowd laughed and cheered.

When a baby's crying competed with the governor's voice, he said to the mother, "that baby's crying don't bother me at all. Whenever I see a baby I grow stronger in this fight for a fight for the babies of future generations, to save them from the horrors of war."

Governor Cox was introduced by Governor Edwards as the "man who makes the world better."

"All we need in this state," said Governor Edwards, "is one more vote to enable him over, for the Republican candidate is the best and greatest asset the Democratic party ever had. If they don't elect him, you'll never be able to count Governor Cox's majority in this state."

To Quote Wisely and Well, One must be a wise reader to quote wisely and well. And then what service is rendered his reader by advertising him where the good things are, besides the modesty of the practice. An author should esteem himself honored by being wisely quoted; his fame is published the more widely, as the volume circulates and is read. Let us celebrate with its own ever-flowing hospitality.—A. AUTHOR OF RED CROSS PAGEANT
WILL TAKE CHIEF ROLE HERE

A telegram has been received from Mrs. Ruth Money Worrell announcing that she will be able to be here to direct the principal part in the great Red Cross Pageant to be presented in the High School Auditorium on the evening of November fifteenth and sixteenth. Mrs. Worrell is the author of this popular spectacle and has been the chief role when it has its highly successful performance in Cincinnati some weeks ago. She was formerly a resident of Portsmouth and since leaving here has attained a national reputation in the management of big pageants in the larger cities. Portsmouth is fortunate in securing her at a time when more than a score of requests for her time have piled up at division headquarters. She is filled with the enthusiasm and personal magnetism necessary to make large scale undertakings with local talent successful.

ALL EYE STRAIN SHOULD GET ATTENTION.

There is no such thing as eye strain that is slight enough to be neglected. Any error of refraction that is important enough to produce eye strain is important enough to demand correction. And here is another point—nothing is gained by putting it off from time to time. In cases of eye strain DO IT NOW should be the practice. We correct all degrees of eye strain with glasses.

New Bill At The Sun

The continued program of big time vaudeville, of heavy miniature musical comedy and street first run photographs for the last half of the week at the Sun theatre is even better than that for Monday and Wednesday. It is declared by all who saw the show on its original presentation Thursday. The "Cheer-up Girls" scored a sensational hit in their new miniature extravaganza "Our Aunt from Abroad." The Vaudeville acts are Reason and Clara in "Kid Dicks," a fantasy of youth in which these clever artists scored instant favor and won generous applause. Wright and Wilbur merited unstinted appreciation for their "Piano Capers."

BATTLES WITH BANDIT GANG

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 2.—Three bandit, Albert W. Jorje, who had numerous aliases, was killed, and three others including George "Jiggs" Loster, wanted for two murders and numerous robberies, were wounded and captured after eight men held up and robbed the branch bank of the Cleveland Trust company, at Bedford.

Amid volleys of bullets that resembled a machine gun engagement one of $50,000. All of the money was recovered.

William Petrie, a bookkeeper in the bank was probably fatally wounded. Three citizens were less seriously shot.

Four of the gang, all of whom also are believed to have been wounded, escaped after the battle which occurred in a lumber yard and in which every Redford citizen who could find a weapon participated. More than 200 shots were exchanged.

The death of Albert W. Jorje automatically annulled a murder indictment that stood for four years. Jorje was also wanted in Chicago in connection with the robbery of the Illinois Loan Bank last August. With four other criminals he escaped from the Toledo jail last Christmas after a deputy had been shot and the jailers imprisoned.

Harry Stone, another of the captured bandits, has served several prison terms and only recently was released from the Leavenworth penitentiary.

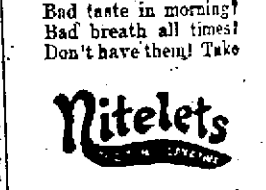

The fourth man captured refused to reveal his identity and police early today had been unable to identify him.

VIOLA DANA in The CHORUS GIRL'S ROMANCE

Photodramatized from the Saturday Evening Post story "Head and Shoulders" by F. SCOTT FITZGERALD. Scenario by PERCY HEATH. Directed by WILLIAM C. DOWLAN and photographed by JOHN ARNOLD

Here is the Picture You've Been Waiting to See—And It's Coming to the Eastland Theatre Tonight and Saturday With a Matinee Performance Saturday—We Take Great Pleasure in Offering Our Most Delightful Star Viola Dana in Her New Picture, "The Chorus Girl's Romance," A Sprightly Play of the Stage—The College and the Shimmy—Sounds Good, Doesn't It? But Wait Till You See It. It's Our Best Picture.

PROGRAM TONIGHT

A—Overture—Eastland Orchestra.
B—Feature—Viola Dana in "A Chorus Girl's Romance."
C—Topics of the Day.
D—The Review.
E—Snub Pollard in "Fellow Citizens."

Viola Dana now has the role of a chorus girl whose specialty is shimmy dancing. Advance reports indicate that the vest-pocket star's many admirers will discover when "The Chorus Girl's Romance" appears on the screen at the Eastland Theatre tonight that Miss Dana shakes a wicked shoulder in the brief vacation that directly preceded her start in her new production. Miss Dana spent many hours before a mirror teaching her shoulders to misbehave.

Indeed, as Maria Meadows, Miss

Dana is required to display rare facility in the art of the undulating dance which depends less upon the feet than any other style of terpsichorean. The little chorus girl wins a Yale "grind" for a husband, quits the stage, and then discovers that his genius is unappreciated and the family must starve unless she does something. That something she does with her head—she blossoms out as a literary prodigy.

MARY MILES MINTER IN Jenny Be Good

By Wilbur Finley Fauley

Scenario by Julia Crawford Fergusson Directed by William Desmond Taylor

Mary Miles Minter is at the Strand Tonight in a Mighty Fine Picture That Will Please You and the Whole Family. Don't Miss Her in "Jenny Be Good."

"Jenny Be Good" is the story of romance and youth which has its beginning in a free house. Jenny (Mary Miles Minter) and the hero, Royal Ronshaw, are secretly married. When Royal's parents learn of this they send him off on a cruise and induce Jenny to have the marriage annulled.

The heartick girl goes to New York to forget Royal and diligently applies herself to the art of playing the violin. At the home of Mrs. Rowley-Jones, her patroness, where she is to give a private concert, she meets Royal and his wife, chosen for him by his parents.

The story is full of pathos and intense situations, relieved by a vein of humor, which is very entertaining. It all ends very happily, but Jenny at the apex of her musical career gives it up at the command of love.

Also the Fox News and an Alice Howell comedy.

ADORABLE SAVAGE

Starring EDITH ROBERTS and JACK PERDIN

Temple Tonight. Edith Roberts in Her Biggest and Best Feature "The Adorable Savage." Also a Ford Weekly.

Edith Roberts, the pliant Universal star, will be sure to delight you tonight at the Temple with her splendid acting in "The Adorable Savage," a photodrama of the South Seas by Ralph Stock. Although this dainty star has attained success playing the lighter roles in which she has recently appeared her portrayal of Maruina in this exotic romance strengthens her hold on the top round of filmstar's ladder.

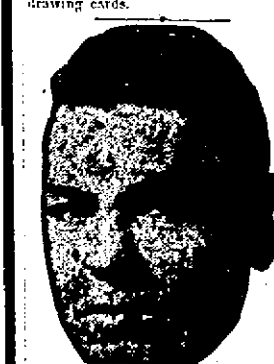

She is first seen as a young girl of culture and refinement who returns to the Fiji Islands to learn that her mother was a native. The struggle between a young American and the native ruler for the love of Maruina lends physical excitement and interest to the story.

The added reel tonight is one of these ever interesting Ford Weeklies.

POLITICS

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22.—Chairman W. W. Durbin, of the Democratic State Committee today issued this letter:

To Mr. George Clark, Republican State Chairman:

You have caused to be issued and published in your official publication, the Ohio Republican, and in many of your Republican newspapers over the state, a statement, headed: "A Warning."

In this you charge the Democratic State committee with using paid emissaries to spread "malicious lies from house to house."

You further charge that Democratic State Headquarters is engaging in an underhanded campaign, directed against the reactionary candidate for president.

In a statement issued after yours came to my attention, I branded your charges as absolute untruths. I said that we had no paid emissaries of any kind in our employ, nor have we sponsored any such practice as you allege.

Furthermore I characterized your assertions that the Democratic committee is conducting an underhanded campaign, as false.

In that reply to your astounding charge, I challenged you to make public the nature of the "underhanded campaign."

One more I call upon you, who have publicly made the charge to COME OUT IN THE OPEN AND TELL THE PEOPLE OF OHIO. THEN, YOU MAY BE SURE I WILL REPLY MORE SPECIFICALLY TO YOU. On

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does not Come Within Two Minutes

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoons with four teaspoonsful of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be hasty, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies; for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.)

AKRON WOMAN GAINED TWENTY-FIVE POUNDS

Feels Stronger Than Ever Before In Her Life And At Least 15 Years Younger Since Taking Tanlac, She Says.

"I have told all my friends about Tanlac, and shall always praise it for the good it has done me," said Mrs. Ada Shumacher, residing at 118 North Summit street, Akron, Ohio, the other day.

"I had been in a nervous and weakened state of health several years and kept going down hill all the time. I had headaches nearly all the time and my stomach was in a bad condition. I had no appetite and what little I forced myself to eat I did not relish. I did not enjoy a night's sleep. In years and many a night, being so nervous and short of breath, I sleep down, I got out of bed and sat up in a chair.

"I had trouble in breathing, and at times felt as if I were being choked. I could become very dizzy, got so I could not do my housework without stopping every few minutes to rest, and all the time I was getting thinner.

My back pained me till it seemed it would break, and I almost had spasms from the suffering. Year in and year out I tried to get relief but all medicines failed me.

"Of course, I had read of Tanlac, and when I was on the point of giving up I concluded to try it. Well, it took right hold of my troubles and cured them so quickly that it surprised me. I have taken only three bottles and already I feel like a new woman.

"Never in all my life have I seen anyone else change so much in so short a time as I have. My appetite is fine now and I can eat anything I wish, and plenty of it, without any distress.

"The dizziness and choking sensation no longer troubles me, and I can lie down and sleep peacefully all night. The pains I had in my chest and back are all gone, and I have gained twenty-five pounds in weight.

"Though I am now fifty-nine years old I feel fully fifteen years younger and stronger than I ever felt in my life, and my work is like play.

"I tell every one what Tanlac has done for me and I will always bless the day I began using it."

Tanlac is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Strick Pharmacy and the leading druggists in every town.

OFFER PRIZE FOR THE BEST POSTER

Some one of the Portsmouth schools and some boy or girl from the County schools have a splendid chance of winning $5.00 or $3.00. It may not be an easy task to make the best health poster in the race, but even to have your poster on the P. H. S. wall, where "The Clin" will perform, is worth a lot of effort.

Whether or not the Junior Red Cross Worker has been to your school and made the announcement, you are eligible. Get busy. Any agent, or any school boy or girl in Seaco County has a big opportunity to prove to his companions that he can reach his goal. It doesn't mean that you have to be an artist, but a patient, tireless worker. Think upon the seven rules of good health and draw or paint a picture illustrating any one of them. Your final effort must be upon 12 by 11 inch poster paper, and must be sent in to the Red Cross office on or before November 6th, 1920.

Remember there is a prize of $5.00 in both city and county schools for the second best poster.

Here are the rules:

1. Wash the hands before eating.
2. A bath oftener than once a week.
3. 10 deep breaths a day.
4. Sleep with windows open.
5. Clean the teeth at least twice a day.
6. Drink at least 4 glasses of pure water a day and as much milk as possible, but no coffee or tea.
7. Eat some fruit or vegetables every day.

Sunday Rally Day

Hayesville M. E. church will hold a Sunday School Rally, Sunday, Oct. 24. W. E. Bancroft of the Centenary Conservation Committee will be present to help put on an interesting program. Besides being Rally Day this will also be Decision Day. Mr. Bancroft will give two of his forceful addresses for young people in the morning and evening, and also in the evening will present the India Mass Movement program. This program is one of the finest pieces of work, requiring 25 people and special selected costumes. It is followed by a special appeal for consecration of the young people. As this will be Decision Day as well as Rally Day a special appeal will be made at each service for the young people to consecrate their lives to Christ. Following these services a class for religious instruction will be formed by the pastor and the class will be continued until next Easter.

George A. Wright, former local man writes friends that he has taken a position as labor foreman with a big Cincinnati concern at a handsome salary and that he is getting along wonderfully.

The ice cream and supper supper which was given at the Red Men's hall last Saturday night under the auspices of the young ladies of the M. E. church was a big success, the attendance being good and a substantial amount was realized for the church treasury.

The Republican rally here Monday evening was attended only by a small gathering of the members of both dominant parties. A. B. McBride presided and the speakers were Joseph Barry Hall and Hon. Bertram and in their addresses discussed the political issues from the standpoint of their party.

"Uncle Tom" Mathew was presented with a historic cedar case recently when he attended a reunion of Civil War veterans and gained the distinction of being the oldest veteran present.

"Uncle Tom" has attained the ripe old age of nearly 84 years and his nearest competitor for the prize was three months younger.

Dr. W. E. Gault will return next week from Chicago where he has been attending a special clinic for chronic and renal physicians. Specialists from all over the world are instructing in this clinic.

Rally In North End

The election of the straight Republican ticket as a protest against the extravagance of the present Democratic administration was the main idea of the campaign and stressed the necessity of all the women turning out and voting on November 2.

Instructions were also given the women on the correct method of marking the ballot at the meeting which was presided over by Miss McCall.

Information for Women Voters

The two greatest progressive achievements in the United States, since the abolition of slavery, are the Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic and the Emancipation of Women.

These two Amendments to the Constitution were secured only after more than half a century of the most self-sacrificing effort.

During this long period, the Liquor Traffic, with its unlimited resources, relentlessly fought both measures, and today is trying to nullify Prohibition in Ohio by seeking the defeat of the legislative Enforcement Act, which makes effective the Prohibition amendment adopted by Ohio voters.

Even under partial enforcement of prohibition, attractive stores have replaced saloons; men who drank are putting their money into savings accounts; merchants have found new customers; buses, cabs, and patrol wagons have disappeared from the streets; wives are happy and children are in school; the Workhouse has been closed, and the whole community is greatly benefited.

If you would retain and improve these desirable conditions, and also get rid of bootleggers and bootlegging, VOTE to sustain the State Enforcement Act.

WOMEN TO THE RESCUE!

WOMEN VOTERS—Mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, thanks to the long efforts of two generations of suffering pioneers, you have been enfranchised. At last you have your opportunity.

On November 2, in the spirit of patriotism and loyalty to the constitution of your country, VOTE to sustain House Bill No. 620, by placing your X in front of the YES, as shown in the sample ballot.

Exercise your God-given right as citizens, and let us all vote and work for Law Enforcement and a better Ohio.

Start a chain of voters for the bill by notifying all your voting friends, women and men, and asking them in turn to notify their friends.

INJURIES FATAL

J. A. Childers of Perdes who fell a distance of 30 feet from a ladder Thursday while painting the roof of the C. E. Bays house in that village, died Thursday from the internal injuries received in the fall.

In the fall, Mr. Childers suffered the fracture of both wrists, the broken bones coming through the skin in the left wrist. The internal injuries proved more serious than first thought and Thursday morning his condition took a change for the worse. He died about two o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Childers is survived by five children his wife passing away about two years ago.

The deceased was 36 years of age and before moving to Perdes lived in Leesville and vicinity. He left Leesville about ten years ago. While a resident of the Seale road village, he conducted a meat market.

Relatives of the deceased live near Leesville. The Childers family is well known in the Leesville community where friends will learn of Mr. Childers' untimely death with some sorrow.

W. W. Gates who has been the president of the Scioto County Sunday School Association, was elected to the office again this morning when the annual convention of this year's association meeting in Second Presbyterian church. The other main officers of the Association were elected with the exception of the Secretary Mrs. Grace Wright who gives up her duties to Wesley G. Carson of this city. The other officers are First Vice President, W. H. Hieve of South Webster; Second Vice President, J. P. Hickey of Lucasville; Treasurer, Wm. C. Hazebek; The Divisional and Departmental Secretaries will not be named until a meeting of the official board of the Association is held sometime after the adjournment of the convention.

Most of the time at the morning's session was given over to the report of the nominating committee and the election of the officers. The time from 8:30 to 9:30 was taken by the various committee meetings. The program proper opening at 9:30 with C. M. Rynders in charge of the music. Rev. Chandler made another of his devotional talks on "The Central Power Station," his talk this morning being "Maxims of the Mud." He laid stress on the fact that all difficulties in our life could be overcome with the help of the gracious God.

Mr. Barnhart
Outline Plan
E. E. Barnhart, regional, Sunday School director made a talk on forward plans and under the head told of some of the plans and programs already laid out for the Sunday School workers for the coming year. Among the plans outlined is one for Daily Vacation Bible Schools again this coming summer. Under the head of "Have We Any Problems and Plans?" Mrs. J. W. Ricker gave a talk on the Home Department.

Judge A. Z. Blair talked on Temperance, why and how to vote and Mrs. Albert Reiser spoke on Missions. Mrs. Reiser in her remarks urged the teaching of missions in Sunday School along more extensive lines.

Rev. Harry W. Buck had for his subject "The Church School" and in his talk spoke of the Sunday School as a stepping stone into the church. He urged that the pupils of the school be given the proper training so that when they come into the church they will be trained workers for Jesus.

The Friday afternoon session started at 1:30 with the worship in song led by Mr. Howland. Rev. Chandler, E. Barnhart and L. B. Edgar were on the afternoon program. Mr. Edgar who has spoken here a number of times arrived in the city this morning to take his place on the program this afternoon and evening. He is the State Adult Superintendent.

The closing session of the convention will be held this evening with the program starting at seven o'clock. J. B. Marcom a young people worker of Huntington will be on the program tonight with Mr. Edgar.

Training School
Is Needed In City
"To train teachers and leaders to rightly handle the souls of children so they can be led to the life Portsmouth should have a community training school, where these leaders could receive the proper training," said T. L. Rynder, director of religious education in the city of Toledo last night when he spoke at the second session of the annual convention of the Scioto County Sunday School Association which convened Thursday afternoon in Second Presbyterian church with a good sized audience present. Thursday night's session proved very interesting, the talks made by the different speakers being presented in a manner that brought out the main points with much force. All who attended last night gained much valuable information on Sunday School work and all were benefited by the talks given.

Besides the talk by Mr. Rynder talks were made by Rev. C. E. Chandler and W. C. Moore. Rev. Chandler is pastor of Bigelow and Mr. Moore is the new State Young People's Superintendent.

This afternoon's session will begin at 1:30 and this evening session at 7 o'clock. Tonight there will be a special musical number by a quartet from the First Christian church.

After the addresses on the program Thursday afternoon when the convention opened a half hour was given over to a business session at which time various committees were appointed. Rev. N. E. Butler, H. A. Wright, C. M. Howland, Miss E. Dreher, Miss Carle Sowers and E. E. Barnhart were appointed on the nomination committee. Otto Gumm of Sciotoville, P. M. Adams of Wheelersburg and Miss Rachel Cratzer of Rushtown were appointed on the recommendations committee. Rev. C. W. Harrison of South Webster and Miss Jeanette Stracy were named on the enrollment committee.

Vice President W. H. Hieve presided over Thursday evening's session and Mrs. S. R. Thompson had charge of the singing. The community singing which was to be a feature of the meeting had to be postponed on account of the stereopticon machine going bad at the last minute.

Five Series of Talks
By Rev. Chandler
Rev. Chandler who is giving a series of devotional talks at the convention gave the second one of his list "The Dominant Motive." "The Central Power Station" is the general theme of these devotional talks.

Rev. Chandler in his talk said in part "What effect will it have on our life if the power of God has the right of way? Consider the dominant passion displayed by Paul. He felt the dominant passion of Jesus and he sacrificed everything to gain the love of Jesus. Nothing could separate him from his dominant passion. He said 'all things are on my side for God is with me.' When persecution and family threatened, he did not worry, for he had the love of Christ. He was always after men for Jesus Christ and with such a dominant passion for His Leader he did not care for anything else. We should not let anything stand between us and the power of Jesus."

Rev. Chandler closed by urging all teachers and leaders to work and strain for the love of God.

"The Community Training School" was the subject taken by Mr. Rynder who is well qualified to speak on the subject for he has had many months work of this kind in Toledo.

In opening his address, Mr. Rynder said "The emotions of the soul are to be found on the innocent face of a little child; there are untold possibilities wrapped up in the soul of every child; each little soul has the power of resistance to evil. Skill is a necessity of teachers who handle these souls rightly. To give young men and young women this skill, a community training school should be organized. Such a school would provide a place where one could study in a highly specialized way, the requirements for teachers and leaders of children.

School Must Meet Needs of Community
Every school must meet the needs of the community it serves and the plans in force in Toledo could not be satisfactorily carried out here for the communities are not the same. The faculty of such a training school should consist of the best the community can afford. The class of such a school should be made up of teachers in the Sunday Schools and prospective teachers."

Mr. Rynder explained the details of the school conducted at Toledo and how it paid for itself. He also answered many questions asked by the interested ones in the audience.

Following his talk, discussions were made by Rev. P. C. Wolf and Rev. N. E. Butler, local ministers, stressing the need of such a school here. Both explained how the teacher in the Sabbath School is a great aid to the minister and how they should have the best training possible to lead others to Christ.

"Youth and Its Leadership" was Mr. Moore's subject and under this title spoke of the youth in the Sunday School and church. He explained that everything should not be left in the hands of the youth and that all should be given by the adults. He pointed out the danger of too much aid being given in some cases, the youth not taking enough of the responsibility. He urged the adults to give some of their attention to the problems of the youth so they would notice that someone else is interested in the work they are endeavoring to carry out.

When Mrs. P. A. King, of 159 North Twenty-seventh street, N.Y., near Cincinnati, started taking Vola-Tonic a short time ago she was down to 118 pounds and her health was very poor. She said she started gaining weight and strength almost right away after she began to take Vola-Tonic and now weighs 155 pounds—a gain of 37 pounds.

"My system was completely out of order when I started taking Vola-Tonic," Mrs. King said. "I was troubled badly with indigestion and also was very nervous."

"We have a stand at the market and I have to be there a great deal of the time. The noise of the market almost got my nerves on edge and after working there for a time I'd feel tired and worn out all over. "I also had frequent attacks of sick headache and had gotten down to 118 pounds when I started taking Vola-Tonic."

"I hadn't been taking Vola-Tonic very long until I could see that I was improving and now I consider that Vola-Tonic was a life-saver for me."

"I have gained 37 pounds since I started taking Vola-Tonic and now weigh 155. All my friends are talking about my improvement and speak about how much better I'm looking."

"My nerves are in much better condition now. I sleep soundly all night and wake up feeling refreshed. I'm never troubled with sick headaches any more."

"Yes, I can truthfully say that Vola-Tonic has done me a world of good and I am glad to recommend it."

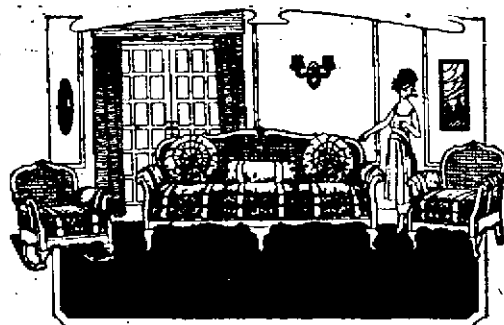

Don't go on feeling weak, run-down, half-sick. Get a bottle of Vola-Tonic TODAY and get back strength and health."

Flord Fuller, the Selects' old standby of last year, couldn't play out of the game any longer, and came back with the bolts on. Wm. Bachuker broke in-

JUST DOPE

Many Portsmouth football fans will journey to Columbus Saturday to witness the Ohio-State struggle. The betting is even as the two eleven, critics say are evenly matched. State has an injured list and will need its full strength against the Buckeye line. Williams, who was out of the game, will get into probable two quarters and he is a "human battering ram."

Saturday afternoon at two o'clock sharp on Millbrook gridiron P. H. S. football fans will see the local Red and Blue eleven go up against one of the best visiting eleven that has entered the local field in several seasons. The Rio Grande College eleven being touted as a heavy, fast organization. Fans are urged to notice the change in time for the game will be called at two o'clock instead of 2:30 as in the past. The admission will be 35 cents for this battle and it promises to be a real battle.

The P. H. S. warriors have been put through strenuous practice sessions each afternoon this week and when the Red and Blue lads take the field tomorrow the crowd on the sidelines will notice a big change in the playing power of the eleven. Coach McConnell and his assistants, Ben Selby, Forrest Williams and Russell McCordy have been giving the team many new plays this week and the team that stacks up against the locals will have to work its hardest to run in a victory.

All the regulars will be in the lineup with the exception of Captain Muller whose injured knee is slowly mending. Acting Captain Stettinmeyer will lead the team and in the backfield with him will be seven Wilson and Frowine with Cunliffe working as sub-halfback. With Frowine at halfback, "Shorty" Pridle will be quarterback. Cressy and Scott are the team's two centers who are always ready to get into the fray. Chubot and Dell will hold down the end positions with Weldner ready to go in as substitute. On the tackle and guard positions will be seen at the start of the game either Rolly Ogier, Ilver, McConnell, Cropper, and Locke, these linemen have been given special attention by the coaches the last week. They have been coached on getting through the line and making tackles and how to make the holes when the lay comes through their side of the line.

Acting Captain Stettinmeyer injured his right wrist Thursday evening in practice when he fell on a sharp piece of brick the wrist being laid open for several inches. He had the forearm bandaged and kept on with his practice. He will not allow this minor injury to keep him out of Saturday's game.

One of the biggest crowds of the season is expected on hand to cheer the locals on to victory. Rio Grande so far this season has turned victories over Huntington and Ironton.

pared favorably with those governing football at the leading colleges and universities of the country.

When the season of 1919 closed and it was seen that Centre had rolled up 483 points against 23 for her nine opponents and that two members of the team were selected for the all-American eleven with a third placed among the substitutes of that mythical all-star combination, football followers throughout the country began to take Centre College seriously. She was invited to arrange a game with Harvard and quickly accepted.

Early today the Centre football squad, accompanied by more than 500 rooters, including the president of the college, members of the faculty and a number of staid Kentucky business men, passed through this city on their way to Boston.

The entire South is backing the eleven. Other college coaches and players helped to put the finishing touches on the training before the squad left Danville. Scores of special telegraph wires will carry every detail of the play from Cambridge to Southern cities, where the game will be followed by thousands of football enthusiasts.

Nine of the eleven players who formed the regular team last season and 12 varsity men are in the squad, including Captain Alvin (Doc) McMillan. McMillan is noted as a wonderful broken-field runner with "Red" Weaver, and Fullback Jim Roberts as goal and field goal kickers extraordinary.

At a meeting of the Athletic Council of the P. H. S. Athletic Association Thursday Paul Graf was elected business manager of the football team. He takes the place of Everett Scott.

Eddie Collins, star second sacker of the White Sox, is to be made assistant manager of that club. He has been recommended by Owner Comiskey to pick his players to rebuild his disrupted club. His promotion is a reward for his loyalty.

Baseball has closed the most prosperous season in its history. The estimated "clean-up" for the majors is in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. Not a club in either circuit lost money. Every one made huge profits even the lowly Athletics and Phillies.

The fall end clubs didn't draw as well at home, but when on the road and pitted against outfits that were in the rampant fight the crowds simply packed in. And the visiting teams

KINGS AND MONKEYS

WE in this age are aware that kings may be pretty common stuff, that they possess no powers superior to many of lowly birth, that a king is only a man. According to the ancient idea, and not much less so of the Stuarts of England and the Hohenzollerns of Germany, a king was a superior creature, a demigod, sometimes claiming supernatural descent. It is still true that a considerable portion of the inhabitants of the earth will bow-down to one of royal birth and feel themselves honored by any nod or favor accorded, but that is an exhibition of man's weakness. But by a monkey a king is not respected because he is a king. King Alexander of Greece is ill, suffering from a monkey's bite. Doubtless he was not bitten because he was a king, but because he interfered with the monkey's pleasures. But being a king does not render him immune from the ills of common men.

Which goes to show that in setting up kings men builded on imagination. They ascribed attributes that exist only in imagery. The monkey probably was not aware that he was attacking a king, but it would have made no difference. The simian could not distinguish between a king and a peasant, because there is no real difference as far as both being mortal. The king may be more capable in some ways because he has earthly advantages denied to the man of humble birth, but he is the same kind of man. That he is set on a pedestal does not change his nature.

SWORDS AND PLOWSHARES

GERMANY, shut from a supply of raw materials with which to feed her industries, is resorting to maneuvers that recall war days and their strategy. Germany has offered cash aggregating 200,000,000 marks for rifles, machine guns and cannon, held by the civil population. One purpose is to demonstrate to the world sincerity in the promise to disarm, the other is to secure the metal which will be used for making needed agricultural implements and machinery parts.

The temptation is alluring, but the people who hold the rifles, machine guns and cannon have so far refused to exchange them for money. The government's attempt to turn Germany's war sword into plowshares literally may result in a failure unless a means so far not discovered is utilized to bring the minds of the people into harmony with official programs.

It is said that millions of rifles, thousands of machine guns and cannon, and scores of thousands of service revolvers are still in the hands of civilians, constituting the main feature of French suspicion that Germany has no intention of following the disarmament terms of the peace treaty although formally accepted and ratified by signature.

But aside from the political factor, Germany needs all the metal supplies she can obtain, and insignificant as the tonnage from this source may be regarded, it will nevertheless be a valuable nucleus. There is not much prospect of success until the minds of the people and government find some common point of meeting.

Remember Mayflower

By Frederic J. Haskin

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 22.—The preliminary plans of the Pilgrim Tercentenary have been fixed, and Plymouth is settling down for a quiet, but busy winter. There will be one day of solemn festivity, December 21, when a few celebrities and a few more citizens will be crowded into the little town hall, and the landing of the Mayflower will be rehearsed and commented on by an orator of note, probably Senator Lodge. After that, the celebrations are to be discontinued until July, for New England winters are so gloomy that it was thought best to postpone the pageants and dedications until a time when the greatest number of visitors can be present, and when the speakers can dispense with earmuffs and not have their impressive remarks marred by an accompaniment of chattering teeth.

There has been some misunderstanding regarding this program and a great many people have come to Plymouth this summer, with the idea that the 1620 tercentenary would be held in 1920. Plymouth is to be an inspiring picture town next summer and therefore, according to the plans of the Tercentenary Commission. Practically all of the money used by the commission is to be put into permanent improvements and memorials, with a view to making Plymouth a national shrine, instead of what one commissioner calls a local dump.

To Restore Waterfront
 Digging old wharves and storehouses along the waterfront are to be torn down and the shore line restored, to look as it did when the Pilgrims first knew it. At present, this shore line is a straight strip of sand, but surveyors who have examined the beach at low tide agree that the original outline made two promontories with a little bay between, where the rock stands. There has been a little difficulty in acquiring the buildings and land which must be taken over in order to restore the waterfront. Some of the owners are holding out for prices several times those given by the assessment records, but the commission is not greatly worried over this. For the right of eminent domain has been granted, and anyone who refuses to sell at a reasonable rate can be forced to do so.

On the restored promontories, back from the beach, there are to be planted cedars, pines, sumach and other shrubbery such as probably once grew close to the shore. These will form an appropriate setting for the famous Plymouth Rock which is also to be restored to a more natural position. The top of the rock, which was split off just before the American Revolution, is all that can now be seen of it. This part stands at the original site. It was several times moved from one part of the town to another, and it shows signs of age and wear. On one morning day it cracked and the pieces had to be hastily patched together with cement. But that is not the worst of its misdeeds.

Plymouth Rock Had a Hard Life
 Visitors to Plymouth used to make a practice of breaking off substantial chunks as mementoes, souvenirs or paperweights. In fact, the blacksmith across the way was so bothered with requests for his hammer that he hung one up near the rock for the benefit of strangers. Churches in Brooklyn, Boston, and other cities boast bits of the rock in their structures, and Timothy Dwight, president of Yale, said that he had seen pieces of it in practically every town in the United States.

This vandalism was finally stopped, but not until the rock was reduced, nobody knows exactly how much. It is now under a granite canopy, protected barely by sentiment and the people who are usually around it, or passing by. Anyone can touch it, sit on it, or use tourists often are—photographed standing on it. But these simple pleasures are about to be curtailed. By next summer the top of the rock will be taken off the concrete floor of the canopy, and lowered so that it rests on its base. The whole rock will then be at sea level, and the tide will wash up close to its side, but not touch it. A new granite canopy will protect it from the rain, and a grating from the carresses of visitors, who will have to content themselves with looking down on it from the high shore slides.

For the benefit of any who may think it possible that much money and sentiment are being expended on a rock which never played any part in our history, it may be said that the past of Plymouth Rock has been accounted for beyond a doubt. The son of a Puritan who came over in 1621 visited Plymouth when he was thirty-five years old. In 1742 he identified the rock and before a large number of witnesses told the story of the landing as he had heard it from his father and from others, when he was a child. Even when this man was a little boy the rock was famous and held in respect. Its identity is further substantiated by old records still in existence.

Bronze Memorial Figures
 Back from Plymouth Rock, where the Pilgrim village stood, there are to be various memorials. A bronze statue of Massol, the friendly Indian chief, is to stand on a high hill; a small clay model made by the sculptor, Cyrus Dallin, is now in the Boston offices of the Tercentenary Commission. The big chief, nobly poised, stands holding the peace pipe and looking thoughtfully off at strange palefaces who must be tolerated. By the town brook, where the Pilgrim women did their washing, there is to be a bronze statue of a Pilgrim mother. These statues and other memorials are being given by different patriotic societies. Massachusetts has set aside $325,000 for a memorial building, and the engineering work and other necessary improvements are to be paid for by a fund. Congress was asked for $750,000, but appropriated only $200,000. This may mean that the plan for beautifying the waterfront cannot be completed by next summer. The commission expects to complete work on the rock and its immediate surroundings first, and then, if funds hold out, the two promontories will be restored, one at a time.

The Financial situation is to be somewhat relieved by the tercentenary bill dollars which congress authorized to be minted and sold as souvenirs. The half dollar will have a picture of the Mayflower on one side, and on the other a bust of Governor William Bradford, wearing the Pilgrim cloak and hat and carrying his history of Plymouth under his arm. Special stamps will be issued also—a green one-cent stamp showing the Mayflower, a red two showing the landing of the Pilgrims; and a five-cent stamp in blue showing the signing of the compact about the Mayflower.

The Lost Mayflower
 Reproductions of the famous Mayflower will be seen everywhere in Plymouth next summer, but the timber of the ship itself are not expected to figure in the celebrations. To be sure, an English poet claims to have discovered the old hull, but authorities on Pilgrim history in Boston assure us that from the story given out there is no possibility of the ship being the true Mayflower.

It seems that Mayflower was a general name for ships in the seventeenth century as Mary or Belle is today. There were no less than 50 Mayflowers sailing the seas, contemporary with the Pilgrim ship. All that is known of the American Mayflower is that she made several voyages after her most famous one, and then slipped out of sight among the host of boats with similar names and hulls.

The Pilgrim Mayflower was known to Captain John Smith, who said that she was a "leaking, unwholesome ship." While Governor Bradford in his history recounts how on the voyage to America one of the beams in the midships was bowed and cracked and her condition became so critical that, had she not been half way across, the captain would have turned back.

None of the Pilgrim houses are standing in Plymouth. The appearance of the rough log shelters can be gauged pretty well from old drawings and manuscripts, and plans are under consideration to tear down shacks along the town brook and build several reproductions as like the originals as possible.

Plymouth cannot show the old houses nor the ship, but it has the rock; it has many relics of the Pilgrims in its museum; and it knows the exact sites where much of our earliest history was made.

Even without the halo of history surrounding it, Plymouth would still be one of the most attractive of New England towns. Its modern improvements—electric lights, a model jail, country club, and the rest—do not detract from the atmosphere of old New England quaintness. You can walk or ride for blocks through lanes of pleasant frame cottages and mansions with the blue sea below and a few fishermen and boats to make the scene truly New England in character.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY G. O. MONTRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: A group of white capped chefs in the rear of the Hutchinson. Wonder if a chef takes any interest in his work after a full meal? Wilton Luckaye on crutches. Windows heaped with hunting tops. A man reclining on a bulky gunny pulled along by a third woman. He may be worn out arguing against suffrage. Who knows!

A computer carrying a tall hat. Flappers in furs and fancy hats. Life is a series of laggards. Here I am on a long day trying to match some ribbon for flapper. Still adventure is always around the corner. I say find it at the ribbon counter. A chapter little Frenchman wearing his moustache in a perfume shop. Every life has its great moments. Babe Ruth just bowed to me. Two policemen stopped me from crossing the street. Is this, then, democracy? Two old rounders, with pink trousers, tottering to their club. There, old things! The supply is quickly vanishing. A pedler asleep under a tray of candies.

The thirty cent soda water is now twenty cents. But it is too low to drink them. The baseball batsmen are deserted. May Wilton Preston, the illustrator in a magazine. An old city detective with a faded photograph. Said to have been made up an Oriental crook he tried to Constantinople. And yet we say at the adventure of fiction scenes.

Dillingham walking with his star Fred Stone. All the lights are coming out. It always gives a tingle to watch them. There is an overwinding sense of space as the skyscrapers light up. Time for me to go home. O God! I forget that flapper ribbon. Now for a snappy white shirt. I have it. All the stores were just out of ribbon.

It, Mr. Brinkhoff, the cottoner, is also a minor singer of note. Brinkhoff on easy familiarity with the ordered who leads in the building where it owns an apartment. The city is justly fond of Irish singers. The other night he came to Mr. Brinkhoff with a puzzled expression. "You know," he said, "I have heard John McCormack and Chatterbox about who is this Al McGluck I hear them talking about?"

Traffic policemen in New York declared that women are more careful drivers than men. There are very few accidents that may be traced to the woman driver. Quite a few car owners have noted this and it is unusual to see women in traffic forms acting as chauffeurs. Many of them learned to drive during the war.

I was in the office of a man who married a great actress. He is a sort of person who has beaten his way to the top through much opposition. His "No" is historic for its flexibility. And yet he has a vulnerable point. His wife called him on the telephone. It was evident that he did not want to dress for dinner that evening and then go to a theatre. He argued nicely and made all sorts of plausible excuses. At last he said he would not do it. There was a pause, and finally the faint suspicion of a smile and at last "O well I will do it this time, but never again!" Then he turned to me with: "I say I won't do it again, but I will be doing it tomorrow night. Women are funny!"

The Editors Each Want One
 "I've an invention at last that will mean a fortune."
 "What is it this time?"
 "Why, it's an extra key for a typewriter. When you don't know how to spell a word, you hit the key and it makes a blur that might be an 'n' or most anything else."

The Hesperides
 The world is wondrous wide and fair
 Since I have slain the dragon Care;
 The rich Hesperides fruit
 At last is won, through long pursuit;
 I pluck it all from Loughs low bent

Win Or Lose
 "May I have a word with you, Mr. Greene?" began the young man.
 "Certainly you may," said the Wall Street father.
 "I want you to decide a bet."
 "Very good. Go on."
 "I want to marry your daughter."
 "Tut-tut, sir."

"But wait. Your daughter has bet me that you will give your consent to our marriage and I have bet her that you will not. Now, you certainly would not want to decide a bet so that she would lose; now would you?"—You know Statesman.

To Insure Prompt Service
 Mr. Foster—Why are you trying to phone my office at this time in the morning? There's nobody there.
 His Wife—I know what I'm doing. I'll wait till you get home and I'll be ready this evening, and if I come home now I'll get the connection just in time.

All Right, Now How Do You Pronounce "Hobbes?"
 Poor Kaiser Wilhelm looked a joke when measured up with Marshal Foch. Who stood like a everlasting rock. Foch as the hills was Marshal Foch. All German plans were made a foolish strategy craved by Foch. How could we see with such a coach directing plays as Marshal Foch? Steins click no more with joyful "Hoch."
 They're drinking wine since meeting Foch.
 Pronounce him "Hobbes," Marshal Foch.

A dandy way to get out of a spot after you've put a clerk in a bit of trouble is to look at your wrist watch and say: "I'll come in again, my party's three is up." Many a truth is spoken without thinking.

POLITICAL CRISIS LOOMS IN ENGLAND DUE TO THE STRIKE

NEXT MOVE UP TO PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Oct. 22.—British labor and the country as a whole waited anxiously today for the government's next move in the deadlock over the coal miners' strike, following the strike ultimatum delivered by the railway men yesterday and almost equally pointed threat from the transport workers.

The representatives of the National Union of Railway Men were in session and it was understood they expected a reply from the premier to the communication they sent him yesterday giving him to understand that the railway men would quit work Sunday at midnight unless by Saturday the strike was settled or negotiations which would effect a settlement had been begun. Meanwhile the government and one of the miners' leaders were exploring the ground in an effort to find some basis for an adjustment.

This afternoon it was announced that the parliamentary committee of the trades union congress had called a conference for Wednesday next for the executives of the affiliated unions to consider methods of helping the miners in their effort to settle the strike.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Interest in the miners' strike and the threatened walk out of railroad and transport workers throughout the country was centered today on 10 Downing street, the official residence of Premier Lloyd George.

Served with virtual ultimatums by the railroad and transport men to begin negotiations with the miners today on pain of facing a tie up of railroad and possibly other traffic on Sunday night, the premier was expected to make a definite announcement of the stand the government was expected to take.

Members of the cabinet held a long meeting last night, but the decision reached was not made public. It was learned, however, that one minister discussed an appeal to the country for a mandate to settle the miners' strike. Indications of a political, as well as an industrial crisis were found in the situation. It was declared, and appeared that labor had joined issue with the government in a struggle which might become historic.

In formal conversations with men prominent in the councils of labor, the premier has given no hint of weakness or receding from his position that strikes for increased coal production are a reference to the miners' demands as an independent tribunal must be used as conditions precedent to any increase in wages for the men. It was stated the threat of the railway and transport men served, not to drive the premier from his position, but to make it more difficult for him to enter into negotiations with the coal diggers.

Serious economic conditions already are becoming evident in some localities as a result of the miners' strike, and there is a widening circle of distress that causes concern.

Drastic restriction of railroad and shipping schedules has already been ordered and many industrial plants have been forced to close because of lack of coal.

Belgium Faces Big Strike
BRUSSELS, Oct. 22.—The strike movement among the Charleroi coal miners, where 2,000 men went out yesterday, will probably be followed by the railway post office men, street car employees and metal and gas workers. It was predicted in labor circles today that movement is one of protest against the issue of an income tax.

$25,000 Bribe Settled Strike, Is Alleged

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Testimony that $25,000 was used as a bribe in "fixing up" a recent strike of building laborers was expected to be turned over today to the district attorney's office for immediate action.

State Senator Charles C. Lockwood, chairman of the joint executive committee on housing investigation building conditions here, announced this at the closing of yesterday's session. The hearing was resumed today.

The testimony brought out of yesterday's session, was to the effect that Ephraim B. Levy, a builder engaged in a $2,000,000 construction, paid the $25,000 to George Backer, another builder in immediate charge of the operations, for transmitting it was understood to Robert P. Brindell, president of the Building Trades Council of New York, as a go-between for "the committee," who promised to stop the strike.

Harding Back In Marion For Four Days Rest

MAHON, Ok., Oct. 22.—With his return to Marion today from his short campaign excursion into New York state, Senator Harding had before him four days of freedom from speech making before beginning the swing around the circle of his own state that will wind up his campaign.

The speech at Buffalo last night completed the nominee's list of engagements outside Ohio. His front porch program also is virtually at an end, and the only speaking dates now definitely to be filled are the four next week in Cleveland, Akron, Cincinnati and Columbus.

Whether Senator Harding will fill all of these engagements in one trip or will return to Marion between speeches has not been determined. Some of his advisers are urging that he make no attempt to spend any of the time after Wednesday at home, but devote the spare time to rear platform speeches.

Irish Home Rule Bill Again Up In The House

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Irish home rule bill is again under consideration in the house of commons. The bill was taken up today when the house went into committee in the financial clauses of the measure. There was small attendance of members.

Plan Cotton Export Organization
DALLAS, Texas, Oct. 22.—Organization of a cotton export corporation in Texas is considered imminent as the result of a decision reached by the bankers, growers and merchants representing every section of the state in conference here. A committee appointed yesterday definitely decided to form the corporation and adjourned until next week to complete plans for its organization.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS UNUSUALLY BRIGHT, SAYS ELBERT H. GARY

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Business prospects are unusually bright, both in the United States and abroad, Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation declared in an address before the American Iron and Steel Institute here today.

"Although this is a time for courage, composure, and caution," Mr. Gary said, "the business skies are practically without clouds. As always, there may be showers from time to time, but there is nothing in the atmosphere to indicate the approach of dangerous storms."

"If there should be a serious reaction and depression," he continued, "which now seems improbable, it will be the fault of those who are connected with business operations or others who by reason of official positions, improperly interfere, and not because of any fundamental deficiencies in our resources and opportunities."

"Without referring to individual cases or lines of general business, I believe in many instances prices have been outrageous," he said. "The observation applies more especially to middle men, speculators, and to smaller departments of industry. It also includes employees in certain trades; but it does not pertain under present conditions to the masses of workmen."

"The present tendency is toward a lower, more reasonable and fairer relative basis. The difficulty is found in the fact that every individual is personally willing that all others shall make concessions—the larger the better. Now a general public, including particularly those who are neither buyers nor sellers to any large extent, will in one way or another bring about a fair and reasonable adjustment of prices. The law of supply and demand will be the principle factor."

"The people of the United States have reason for confidence in the business future. They need not be discouraged nor impatient."

Speedy recovery of industry in France and Belgium from the ravages of war was predicted by Mr. Gary. He described in some detail his recent trip over the battle fields of the two

SEARCH FOR STUDENT IN COLLEGE MURDER

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 22.—A nation wide search was instituted today for William P. Brines, the Carleton College freshman, for whom a warrant was issued yesterday charging him with the murder of Elmer C. Drewes, the Dartmouth College student slain here last Saturday night. The young men were said by the police to have been close friends.

Although the authorities admitted they have discovered no motive for the killing, they declared they have a "large quantity of evidence which directly points to Brines as being responsible for the death of Drewes."

One theory of the police is that he was killed in a dispute over the purchase of an automobile. Before leaving his home in West Philadelphia last Saturday night, Drewes told his father he intended buying a second hand motor car and those working on the case said it has been learned that it was Brines' machine he planned to purchase.

The car found abandoned yesterday a mile from where Drewes body was discovered and which was identified as having belonged to Brines is the one the Dartmouth student intended buying, according to the detectives. The car, which was stained with blood, was found an automatic pistol with two cartridges missing and two empty bottles. The police have been searching for Brines for several days. He lived with his mother who is a widow in West Philadelphia and their apartments have been closed since Monday. He has not attended any classes at the university since last week. Mrs. Brines was said to be in a local hospital suffering from a nervous trouble.

WHOLE VILLAGE BATTLES WITH BANDIT GANG

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 22.—Three counties were searched by posse today for the remnant of the landit gang who late yesterday engaged in one of the most spectacular bank robberies in Ohio.

Ambushes of bullets that resembled a machine gun engagement one bandit, Albert W. Joyce, who had numerous aliases, was killed, and three others including George "Jiggs" Loeblinger, wanted for two murders and numerous robberies, were wounded and captured after eight men held up and robbed the branch bank of the Cleveland Trust company, at Bedford of $20,000. All of the money was recovered.

William Petrie, a bookkeeper in the bank was probably fatally wounded. Three citizens were less seriously shot. Four of the gang, all of whom also are believed to have been wounded, escaped after the battle which occurred in a lumber yard and in which every Bedford citizen who could find a weapon participated. More than 200 shots were exchanged.

The death of Albert W. Joyce automatically annulled a murder indictment that stood for four years. Joyce was also wanted in Chicago in connection with the robbery of the Illinois Loan Bank last August. With four accomplices, he was wanted for two murders and numerous robberies, were wounded and captured after eight men held up and robbed the branch bank of the Cleveland Trust company, at Bedford of $20,000. All of the money was recovered.

Harry Stone, another of the captured bandits, has served several prison terms and only recently was released from the Leavenworth penitentiary.

The fourth man captured refused to reveal his identity and police early today had been unable to identify him.

MONKEY BITE PART OF PLOT TO ASSASSINATE THE KING OF GREECE
ROME, Oct. 22.—Injuries inflicted upon King Alexander by a monkey were the result of a plot to assassinate the young monarch, according to Dr. Georges Ferdinand Widal of Paris, who has been attending the king and was interviewed by the Messager, while passing through Rome on his way home from Athens.

"While the story of the monkey attacking King Alexander is true," Dr. Widal is quoted as saying, "the monkey was suffering from rabies with which it had been artificially inoculated. Hence, a veritable attempt against the king's life was committed."

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, was delirious this morning, and the prison authorities continued to force food into his mouth, in spite of his protests, according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination league.

The lord mayor becomes delirious at intervals, the bulletin said, but is unable to recognize relatives or his surroundings. For a short time last night his delirium again became violent.

"He went to sleep for about an hour," said the bulletin. "At about 4:30 o'clock he seemed to be rallying to his senses, but relapsed almost immediately. This occurred again between 7 and 8 o'clock, when his sister Anna was with him. He suddenly asked the month and the year, where he was, and was the Irish republic established and recognized."

"It seems as if he might recognize his sister, but he became delirious again, muttering: 'We did once grand marching during the night; they were marching as well, but we beat them; it's glorious!'"

"The prison authorities continued to force food into his mouth. About 8:30 o'clock this morning, a nurse held a spoon of meat juice to his lips, but he muttered, 'no, no, take it away,' and closed his lips firmly. The performance was repeated twice when his head fell back from exhaustion and the spoon was inserted in his mouth."

JURY MAY RETURN TRUE BILLS AGAINST WHITE SOX

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—True bills may be returned today by the Cook county grand jury against several of the men whose connection with the "throwing" of the 1919 world series has been traced by the grand jury's investigation, according to reports in circulation as the investigation was resumed today.

Among the witnesses who have been called to testify today are three St. Louis men whose names were brought into the investigation through the inquiry at St. Louis last fall by Manager Kid Gleason of the Chicago White Sox just after the series closed.

President R. H. Johnson of the American league returned today from St. Louis and may go before the grand jury again. It was said, "Dispatches from St. Louis said that Johnson went to see Phil Ball, president of the St. Louis American league club in connection with the reorganization of the national commission proposed by the eight National league clubs and three of the American league clubs, but it was said Mr. Ball was in the south-west."

In an interview published here today Harry Long, employee of a brokerage firm belonging to the Chicago board of trade, says that his firm refused to handle bets on the series for J. J. "Sport" Sullivan of Boston, who was subpoenaed by the grand jury. Long says, according to the published interview, that Sullivan then persuaded him to handle the bets and he placed $20,000 among various board of trade men at even money that Chicago would win the first two games. Long also says, according to the interview, that Sullivan wired other cities and obtained additional funds to bet on Cincinnati when he found plenty of Chicago bets. Sullivan urged him to bet on Cincinnati himself. Long says in his interview, but he did not take the advice.

Sunday the N. and W. Smoke House team will clash with the fast Tanks of Ironton. The battle royal will be staged on Millbrook gridiron and will start at 2:30 o'clock sharp.

The N. and W. Smoke House lads will practice tonight at 6:30 at the N. and W. freight house. Crowder Perkins is a former high school star and will be the local hero this Sunday. Perkins will tryout on one of the end positions.

The game will be hard fought for the Ironton Tanks will have former Ironton high school stars in their lineup that will give the locals much concern. Foremost among these will be Shorty Davies who starred for Ironton two seasons and then went to Ohio State last year and broke into the line-light by big runs for gains. He will have to be watched every minute of the game by the locals who are counting on taking this game as they did last Sunday from the Ashland-Carrollburg eleven.

The N. and W. Smoke House team will have 20 men on the field this Sunday.

Beneficial Gaseous Acids.

Breathing small quantities of such gaseous acids as hydrochloric, hydrofluoric, sulphurous, formic, and acetic has been found to be not only harmless but actually beneficial in diseases of the air passages. The inhalations were continued two hours or more daily, the amount, however, not exceeding one to three grains per cubic yard of air. It is claimed that the acid prevents the development of harmful organisms and acts curatively by stimulating local blood flow and possibly an increased alkalinity of the blood. Workers exposed to acid fumes in various industries came under observation.

Orchid More Than Beautiful.

There are more than 12,000 varieties of orchids, and no man has a complete collection. STRONG RIO GRANDE TEAM PLAYS P. H. S. GRIDDERS HERE SATURDAY

FROM NOW ON TILL THANKSGIVING WE HAVE WITH US NEW THRILLERS IN SPORT—THE GRIDIRON HEROES

Saturday afternoon at two o'clock sharp on Millbrook gridiron P. H. S. Blue eleven will see the local Red and Blue eleven go up against one of the best visiting eleven in recent seasons, the Rio Grande College eleven being regarded as a heavy, fast organization. It is urged to notice the change in size for the game will be called at two o'clock instead of 2:30 as in the past. The admission will be 25 cents for this battle and it promises to be a real battle.

The P. H. S. warriors have been put through strenuous practice sessions each afternoon this week and when the Red and Blue lads on the field will notice a big change in the playing power of the eleven. Coach McGee and his assistants Ira Selby, Porter Williams and Russell McElroy have been giving the team many new plays this week and the team that stacks up against the locals will have to work its hardest to turn in a victory.

All the regulars will be in the lineup with the exception of Captain Miller whose injured knee is slowly mending. Acting Captain Strimmar will lead the team and in the backfield with him will be seen Wilson and Payne with Conliffe working as end-halfback. With Frowine at halfback, "Shorty" Pelle will be quarterback. Cressy and Scott are the team's two centers who are always ready to go into the fray. Chabot and Dell will hold down the end positions with Wellner ready to go in as substitute. On the tackle and guard positions will be seen at the state of the game either Keith, Ogier, Heer, McConnell, Cressy, and Locke, these linemen have been given special attention by the coaches the last week. They have been coached on getting through the line and making tackles and how to make the holes when the lay comes through their side of the line.

Acting Captain Strimmar injured his right wrist Thursday evening in practice when he fell on a sharp piece of brick the wrist being laid open for several inches. He had the forearm bandaged and kept on with his practice. He will not allow this minor injury to keep him out of Saturday's game.

One of the biggest crowds of the season is expected on hand to cheer on the locals on 18th street. The Rio Grande for this season has turned victors over Huntington and Ironton.

Eyes of Football Fans Focused On Harvard-Centre Elevens

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—An interesting football game of far more than national interest features the gridiron schedule Saturday in the meeting of Harvard University and Centre College of Danville, Ky.

Harvard elevens hold the unique position of facing from time to time the leading exponents of football from distant sections of the country.

In facing Centre College at Cambridge, however, there are unusual features which separate the coming contest from even the occasional international game which brings together the supposedly best elevens of two portions of the country.

Attention was first focused upon Centre College teams several seasons ago when reports of large and one-sided scores began to be published.

Gradually the report spread that the football elevens developed at the little Methodist institution of less than 400 students, located in the Kentucky blue grass region were not the result of freak or haphazard conditions, but the fruition of a system which compared favorably with those governing football at the leading colleges and universities of the country.

When the season of 1919 closed and it was seen that Centre had rolled up 185 points against 23 for her nine opponents and that two members of the eleven were selected for the all-American eleven with a third placed among the substitutes of that mythical all-star combination, football followers throughout the country began to take Centre College seriously. She was invited to arrange a game with Harvard and quickly accepted.

Early today the Centre football squad, accompanied by more than 500 rooters, including the president of the college, members of the faculty and a number of state Kentucky business men, passed through this city on their way to Boston.

Volley Ball Results

The Selects, under their able Captain, J. B. Wiles, rose up and swatted the Selby for the first two games, in the Valley Ball Association, yesterday at Williams Hall, by the score of 21 to 15, 21 to 18.

Roscoe Donohoe's men couldn't stand that and defeated them in the third game, 21 to 11. Wiles and Martin played splendid games for the Selects, as did Coffey for the Selby. Floyd Fuller, the Selects old standby of last year, couldn't stay out of the game any longer, and came back with the heels on. Wm. Buchner broke in to the game for the first time, and made a creditable showing. The Selby were badly crippled by the absence of Homer Selby, their star of last year and had been there, "things would have been different."

The lineup were as follows:

Selects: J. B. Wiles, Captain; Floyd Fuller; Frank Boggs, Ralph Martin; Donald Phillips and Wm. Harris.

Selby: Roscoe Donohoe, Captain; N. B. Griffin, Joe Brennan, R. W. Goddard, Chas. Freeman and Wm. Buchner.

The squeak is too high—at has too many vibrations per second—to be heard by any ear that is not very delicate.

TEAMS REAPED GOLDEN HARVEST

Baseball has closed the most prosperous season in its history. The estimated "clean up" for the majors is in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. Not a club in either circuit lost money. Every one made huge profits even the local Athletics and Phillies.

The tail end clubs didn't draw as well at home, but when on the road and pitted against outfits that were in the constant fight the crowds simply poured in. And the visiting teams put in 50 per cent of the Sports.

The Yankees, with Babe Ruth as the mascot, are reported as having cleared close to $2,000,000 on the year, a profit of far in excess of anything in the long annals of the game. The Indians garnered in the vicinity of $300,000 and the Dodgers grabbed off nearly $250,000. The White Sox put in the parks at home and abroad and had to have netted Comiskey more than half a million.

And the Giants, leaders through the early months and panned in dollars later, earned nearly one million.
